Message from the Chair

March is here and Spring is around the corner. I have quit worrying about where the time goes; seems like it scoots on by regardless of how much I would like for it to slow down a little. I came across these tidbits recently and I thought I would share them with you:

"When you hurry through your day, it is like an unopened gift...thrown away...life is not a race. Take it slower. Hear the music before the song is over"

"Life may not be the party we hoped for...but while we are here we might as well dance!"

Now, what does that have to do with a busy and productive Chamber of Commerce? Probably nothing, but sometimes we need to hear and let it soak in how precious are the things that we enjoy. And speaking of enjoying... you are going to love March's luncheon. Our guest speaker will be Jan Hargrave. Jan is an expert in the field of body language. This should prove to be a fun time and maybe it will help you in your effort to "slow down and enjoy the music."

See you there.

Continental Vista Broadcasting Group brings broadcasting to business

Now anyone can afford to broadcast

Thanks to the Internet, people all over the world are now connected in an unprecedented way to each other and to information. This global access has created a virtual world in which almost everything, from research to shopping to business, can be done more efficiently and, in many cases, more affordably.

Thanks to Continental Vista Broadcasting Group, the same is now true for broadcasting.

Continental Vista builds broadcasting networks that enable its affiliates to broadcast interactive live events and archived content to worldwide or targeted audiences.

The technology is available to everyone and every industry: corporate professionals, business-training services, public officials, schools, hotels, churches, funeral homes, the healthcare sector, associations, organizations, and more. All can profit from using Continental Vista's customized broadcasting solutions to expand business and generate revenue through the system's fully integrated revenue models, which include pay per view, subscription, advertising and e-commerce.

An affiliate's content—whether it be a message from a business owner, a training seminar, an entertainment event, a speech, a ribbon-cutting, a convention, or a product presentation—is broadcast via high-quality streaming media that's accessible to viewers with Internet access, even dial-up.

The live broadcasts are enhanced by a full suite of interactive features that far surpass anything available on today's typical personal or business websites. Two features called Talk2Event and Talk2Advertiser allow viewers to interact in real time with event representatives and sponsors. Viewers connect with each other via chat rooms and forums. They stay up-to-date with real-time tickers and live statistics. They participate in auctions, contests, polls and surveys. And, they purchase merchandise directly from affiliates and advertisers.

Even Continental Vista's advertisements are interactive. Learn more about Vista Power Ads on www.continentalvista.tv. By enabling businesses to become their own broadcasters, Continental Vista Broadcasting Group is revolutionizing the way companies communicate by making interactive broadcasting accessible to all.

If one were to ask Continental Vista employees to explain as briefly as possible what the company does, they would say, "We build broadcasting networks."

That's exactly what Continental Vista does. But a more detailed, albeit longer, explanation would be, "We put the power of a broadcasting network in everyone's hands, from the giant hotels and corporations to the smallest businesses and organizations. As long as you have a message, we have a way to help you share it."
